Financial Aid Available during Summer Terms

Aid available in the summer is different from that available during the academic year and depends on the number of credit hours you plan to take. Refer to the sections below to determine your eligibility. Students applying for the aid listed below must complete the Summer Financial Aid Application. If the number of credit hours for which you are enrolled changes, your eligibility for the aid listed below will be directly affected.

Employees and dependents must also complete the 2017-18 Tuition Remission form, which can be obtained from the Office of Human Resources.

If you plan to enroll in at least six credit hours (five as a graduate) for the summer term, the following types of aid are available to you. You must be making Satisfactory Academic Progress for UE to process the following types of aid.

- You may borrow from the Federal Direct Loan program if you have not already borrowed the maximum available during the fall and spring terms of 2016-17.

EXAMPLE: You are classified as a junior. Juniors can borrow up to $7,500 during the academic year. You borrowed $3,500 total for the fall and spring of 2016-17. Your maximum remaining eligibility for the summer is $4,000, provided you demonstrate financial need for that amount.

EXAMPLE: You are a graduate student. Graduate students can borrow up to $20,500 in the unsubsidized loan during the academic year. You borrowed $14,000 total for the fall and spring of 2016-17. Your maximum remaining eligibility in the unsubsidized loan for the summer is $6,500.

- Pell Grant eligible students who were not enrolled full-time during both terms of the 2016-17 academic year may have remaining eligibility that could be used during the summer term. Check with the Office of Financial Aid.
- Your parent may apply for the Federal PLUS Loan provided you are enrolled at least half-time. This is a creditworthy loan, which we will process once we have an accepted credit approval. Please contact our office if your parent plans to use a PLUS loan for the summer term.
- You may apply for a private loan. Please refer to www.evansville.edu/financialaid/loansPrivate.cfm for more information and to access our Private Lender Comparison Tools. Once you have completed the online application process, and the loan is approved, we will receive a request to certify the loan. Certification is based on your summer Cost of Attendance.
- If you are a graduate student, you may apply for the Federal Grad PLUS Loan provided you are enrolled at least half-time. Apply online at studentloans.gov. If you need more information, please refer to www.evansville.edu/financialaid/loansFederal.cfm.

If you plan to enroll in fewer than six hours for the summer term, the following types of aid are available to you.

- You may apply for a private loan. Please refer to www.evansville.edu/financialaid/loansPrivate.cfm for more information and to access our Private Lender Comparison Tools. Not all private lenders will offer loans to students enrolled less than half-time, so check the lender's requirements. Once the loan is approved, we will receive a request to certify the loan. Certification is based on your summer Cost of Attendance.
- Pell Grant eligible students who were not enrolled full-time during both terms of the 2016-17 academic year may have remaining eligibility that could be used during the summer term. Check with the Office of Financial Aid.
