

University of Evansville
Phi Beta Delta Honor Society
Faculty/Staff Nominations

Phi Beta Delta is an honor society “dedicated to recognizing scholarly achievement in international education.” The University of Evansville has recently been designated as the Theta Eta Chapter of Phi Beta Delta, which honors both students and faculty/staff for their involvement in international activities.

Faculty/staff members are welcome to nominate their fellow colleagues to be inducted into the Phi Beta Delta Honor Society. In order to be eligible for nominations, faculty/staff must have contributed to internationalization on the University of Evansville campus. This can include:

- Faculty/Staff have taken students abroad
- Faculty/Staff have worked abroad
- Faculty/Staff have lived abroad
- Faculty/Staff work with international students
- Faculty/Staff have been Fulbright recipients

To nominate a faculty/staff member, please answer the following questions:

1. Name of nominee: _____
2. Department of nominee: _____
3. A brief paragraph explaining your reason for nominating this faculty/staff member:

All nomination forms should be e-mailed to Greta Becker at gb91@evansville.edu
